Track description:

Start:

Prior to the start, the flag man commands “ready” – “set” and upon the sound signal the contestant starts. One false start is allowed, second false start means disqualification.

Bearing of water-hose:

The competition starts by the tower footing, the water-hose is jam-packed in the packing of 19kg is laid in front of the base which it cannot touch. At the command of the flag man “on your marks” the contestant takes place without touching the water-hose. The contestant is allowed to touch the water-hose after the sound signal. Once the competition starts, the contestant grabs the water-hose and runs up to the third floor where he/she places the water-hose into prepared box, the water-hose has to be inside the box. Neither the box, nor the water-hose can be used as a stair for another event.

Removal of water-hose:

The packed water-hoses jam-packed into 19kg roll are hanged on a 15mm rope. The rope is tied to stair landing on third floor; lower part of the roll is touching the ground. The event is considered done once the water-hoses are brought up to the tower and placed in a box. The contestant can be disqualified based on: losing control, slipping more than one length of a floor, fall of the water-hose from the tower, if the water-hose is rolled on stairs as well as for blocking opponent. If the water-hose is sticking outside of the box, 2 seconds penalty will be added to the contestant. This task has to be completed in less than 3 minutes, otherwise the contestant is disqualified. While walking down the tower, the contestant must hold the handrail and has to step on each stair; every missing step/touch means 2 seconds penalty.

Kaiser box:

In order to complete this task, the contestant has to relocate, while using hammer, weight in Kaiser Box to the end of the track. The contestant has to stand astride above the guiding rail. If the contestant steps into the guiding rail, he/she is disqualified. It is not allowed to push, lever or drag the weight. The only allowed manipulation with the weight is by using the head of the hammer. Any other part of the hammer that touches the weight means 5 seconds penalty. The grip of the mallet cannot touch the weight. Both hands have to be placed on the grip of the mallet, below highlighted line. If the contestant finishes the task earlier, he/she will be penalized 2 seconds for every unfinished 2,5cm. After the task is done, the contestant is required to place the hammer on a base of a size 60 x 90cm. At least a part of the hammer has to be touching the base. In case of violating this rule, 2 seconds penalty follows.

Slalom and placing of the water lines:

The contestant races through the slalom track 43m long. He/she is not allowed to shorten the track or toss a standing cone. If the track is shortened or the cone is tossed, the penalty of 10 seconds follows. The contestant is allowed to touch the cone. If the cone is tossed but the contestant picks it up and places it on its spot again, the penalty is forgiven. After running through the slalom track, the contestant grabs a flow line which is connected to a wet water-hose line. Contestant towers a hose with water through the trace. As soon as the contestant runs through swinging door, he/she can open the flow line and using the water course casts down the target. If the flow like is open sooner and the water course jets up, the penalty of 2 seconds follows. As soon as the target is casted down, the contestant closes the flow line and places it on the ground. It can also be dropped on the ground. If the flow line is not fully closed, the contestant has to go back and close it fully. If the flow line opens because of hitting the ground, there is no penalty and the organizer closes the flow line, letting the contestant to continue towards the figurine.

Transportation of figurine that has 80kg:

The contestant holds and lifts the figurine and by dragging it behindhand relocates the figurine to the end of the track. At least heels of the figurine have to be touching the ground. The task is over as soon as the contestant along with the figurine is behind the end line. Carrying of the figurine is not allowed. If the contestant draws out of the track or holds the figurine by its clothes or harnesses, the penalty of 5 seconds follows (applies to each violence of this rule). Any contact made with the competitor means disqualification. The main referee is allowed to interrupt the task if he thinks that the contestant's condition is not good to continue the task. It is prohibited to drop the figurine at the end of the task; it needs to be laid by squaring up elbows.

Every contestant is responsible for finishing each task.

In rare cases, when the technical squad or the competitor creates blocks, the referee can approve the reparation of the act – subtracting time or having the task redone.

Time limits to complete the task:

- men: 4 minutes
- women: 6 minutes

If the time limit is not met, the attempt will be called off and the contestant will be disqualified no matter where he/she is standing at the moment.

Rules of the relay race:

The rules for the competition Firefighter Combat Challenge Jihlava 2019 are valid as per below if not specified alternatively.

Gear:

The gear requirements are equal for all the contestants based on valid regulations for firemen. The insulating breathing equipment is carried only as a static cargo; it is not used for breathing. The insulating breathing equipment is provided by the organizer.

Relay race category:

- Men
- Women
- MIX (min 2 women in a relay race)

The relay race team is composed by 3 – 5 members. One team member is appointed as a captain of the team. During the relay race, the team members are passing the relay-stick one to another. This relay-stick has to be passed from hand to hand. If the relay-stick is dropped while handing it to another contestant, the last one holding the relay-stick has to pick it up and hand it to the team member again. Any type of a "loss" of the relay-stick stops the whole team until the relay-stick is back in the game (e.g. If the relay-stick falls from the tower or the handover is forgotten). Once the relay-stick is handed to another team member, the game can continue. The team members are allowed to change on specified spots during the relay-race. Based on the decision of the team, one team member is allowed to complete more handovers. All the handovers have to follow above mentioned rules.

The relay-race is eliminative run. That means the best 16 relay-races make it to qualification. After that, the regular play-off follows (1 – 16, 2 – 15 etc.) – the run-ups are done up to the run-up for 3rd place and finals for 1st and 2nd place.

Handover zone: Highest floor of the tower

- The contestant hands over the relay-stick (further RS) once he/she is standing on the stair landing of the highest floor with both feet and the water-hose has been placed into prepared box. The contestant that is waiting for the handover of RS is standing with both feet on the stair landing. He/she cannot be holding the prepared rope with fastened weight. Following that, the contestant that was pulling the rope with the weight can pause on top of the tower – but both have to be standing at the stair landing, not on the staircases.

Handover zone: After running down the tower and at the beginning of the Kaiser box

- The handover can be done after running out of the staircase area and stepping down from the last stair (and touching ground) and prior to stepping on the Kaiser box; or the RS can be handed over while the contestant is standing at the Kaiser box but the contestant cannot be touching the mallet.

Handover zone: After the Kaiser box, prior to the relay-race

- Once the Kaiser box task is completed and the mallet is placed on the base, the RS can be handed over again. The handover has to be done before the first cone of the relay-race.

Handover zone: After the relay-race and prior to flow line

- This place is between the last cane and the water-hose with flow line.

Handover zone: After the flow line and prior to the figurine

- The handover can be done once the target is shot down by the beam of water and the flow line is closed and laid aside. The flow line can be closed only by the contestant that is using it. The figurine can be lifted up once the contestant that is supposed to carry the figurine is holding the RS.

Team members cannot be swapped not even when hurt or sick. If the change is needed, the number of team member will be lowered (e.g. from 5 to 4).
